ShaktiWel

A Unique Health Supplement

Today the pace of life is speeding up with increasing reliance on fast food which may be inadequate to satisfy the daily nutritional requirements of the body. In order to maintain a healthy body, a supplement becomes necessary to be incorporated in the daily dietary regime, which takes care of all the nutritional requirements of the body and helps to maintain a balanced and healthy life. In addition to this, minerals like Iron and calcium play a vital role in overall growth of body and conditions like pregnancy, menstruation etc.

ShaktiWel is an unique dietary supplement which is scientifically designed to address the wellness of bones, blood, muscles, nerves, heart, immune system, skin, eyes, hair and nails. The formulation emphasizes the logical addition of other vitamins and trace minerals which enhance the bio-availability as well as the utilization of Iron and Calcium.

ShaktiWel is fortified with essential minerals such as vitamin D, phosphorous and magnesium that help in the easy absorption of Calcium into the body, whereas manganese and vitamin K help in utilization of calcium for bones and cartilage synthesis. Iron along with folic acid, vitamin B12 and Vitamin B6 support the normal red blood cells production and energy utilization. It can work as a boon for pregnant and lactating women where the requirements of not only the mother but also the child are taken care of. Presence of both iron and calcium in a single formulation provides an added advantage.

Thus, ShaktiWel not only nurtures your body with the essential nutrition but also ensures that these nutrients are adequately absorbed and properly utilized by the body.

Suggested Use:

One capsule twice a day before meal

The spirit of Norwela

Norwela by name signifies life's normal well-being.

In today's busy world, for multiple limitations of life, we forget to take minimum care of our health. The inevitable result is, ill health, and onset of one or the other so-called life-style diseases. These diseases, over the years, all tend to be devastating, and at times, even life threatening. Apart from ill health, the economic burden upon the society is almost immeasurably huge.

While mainstream medicine has no enduring remedy, in most cases, symptomatic treatment brings more harm than good in the form of side effects. Instead, Ayurveda, with its holistic approach to a physical malady, is a proven lifeline.

Norwela has a history of decade long research upon Ayurvedic medication, and has successfully come out with a set of medicines that have been proven to be effective in bringing back the nutritional balance even in a weak body. There is an urgent need that these benefits reach to the society.

The driving spirit of Norwela, hence is to serve the society by bringing this precious wisdom of Ayurveda at the doorsteps of those who need medical help immediately, and also those who want preventive care at a minimum cost. Norwela has bestowed this responsibility upon its dedicated distributors, sellers or agents whose mission is to serve the society as an ambassador of health and wellbeing of the people.

Wish you a happy normal life, a happy Norwela to you.
